

Frozen By Fire

A documentary in Verse of the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory Fire of 1911

Don Kentop, a published poet, will give a dramatic reading from "Frozen by Fire", his collection of documentary poems about the tragedy that changed American labor history and our lives, the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory Fire of 1911. He will be assisted by Aljoya residents who will read from survivors' accounts of the fateful day.

The readings will remind us of the history of some women workers in the U.S. and give us a glimpse of how poetry can add to our understanding of events.

May 10 at 3:30 PM
Aljoya Thornton Place
4th floor Conference Room
450 NE 100th, Seattle 98125
Free Admission

Sponsored by the Pacific Northwest Labor History Association and presented as part of the WA State Labor Council MayWorks.

Preserving the History and Heritage of Workers in the Pacific Northwest
www.pnlha.org

